-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 23 July 2003.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Claim Status

Claims 1-18 are pending. Claims 1-18 are rejected as detailed below.

Double-Patenting

Claim 1 of the instant application 10/625,320 filed July 23, 2003 is unpatentable under the judicially created doctrine of "obviousness-type" double patenting with respect to claim 1 of parent U.S. Patent No 6,633,567 (Brown).

Instant Application claim 1 defines an obvious variation of the invention claimed in US Pat No 6,633,567.

Claim 1 of the instant application is anticipated by the patent claim 1 in that claim 1 of the patent substantially contains all of the limitations of instant application. Claim 1 of the instant application therefore is not patentably distinct from the earlier patent claim and as such is unpatentable for obvious-type double patenting.

Pat No US 6,633,567 includes the limitations of instant application except for at least one ingress port and at least one egress port. Bordonaro discloses an ingress port and an egress port [col 11, lines 55-65]. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Pat No 6,633,567 to include an input port and an output port as taught by Bordonaro for the purpose receiving packets over a TCP/IP connection.

Art Unit: 2161

Pat No US 6,633,567

What is claimed is:

1. A switch comprising: a translator which provides a translated identifier for a virtual LAN identifier associated with a received data packet, the translated identifier including a group identifier corresponding to a virtual LAN group and a group member number corresponding to the identified virtual LAN; and a filtering database storing a static entry and a dynamic entry which provides a forwarding decision, for the received data packet, from a single search of the filtering database for a match for the forwarding decision associated with the translated identifier stored in the dynamic entry or the static entry, the dynamic entry storing the forwarding decision associated with the group identifier included in the translated identifier and the group member number set to a don't care, the static entry storing the forwarding decision associated with the translated identifier.

Application No 10/625,320

What is claimed is: . . .

1. A switch for receiving and forwarding data packets comprising: at least one ingress port for receiving data packets, at least one of the data packets associated with a virtual LAN identifier; at least one egress port for forwarding the data packets; and forwarding logic which provides a translated identifier for the virtual LAN identifier, the forwarding logic comprising: a filtering database that provides a forward vector for the translated identifier from a single search of the filtering database.

Art Unit: 2161

Pat No US 6,633,567 does not claim a ingress port at least one ingress port for receiving data packets

a translator which provides a translated identifier for a virtual LAN identifier associated with a received data packet

at least one of the data packets associated with a virtual LAN identifier

Pat No US 6,633,567 does not claim a egress port at least one egress port for forwarding the data packets

a translator which provides a translated identifier for a virtual LAN identifier associated with a received data packet

forwarding logic which provides a translated identifier for the virtual LAN identifier

and a filtering database storing a static entry and a dynamic entry which provides a forwarding decision, for the received data packet, from a single search of the filtering database

a filtering database that provides a forward vector for the translated identifier from a single search of the database

Art Unit: 2161

Note:

In the above comparison of claim limitations, the limitations of Pat No US 6,633,567 are bolded while the limitations for Serial No 10/625,320 are non-bolded
